July and August. Dr. E. L. Horton. 2t.

Misses Edith and Joy Kite, of this city, and Miss Lucille Bennett, of Flat River, went Monday to the Baptist Assembly at Arcadia Heights, where they will remain during the entire two-weeks session.

It is rumored that the Elvins Post has "turned its toes to the daisies".
That does not appear to be a promising field for a newspaper to take on a vigorous growth. E. E. Sanders was the last editor of the Post.

Harvey Haile and Wilbur Akers, who recently bought a Fordson tractor, are very busy plowing and doing other power work for farmers in the vicinity.
They are engaged principally in plowing under wheat stubble.

If you have an over-supply of vegetables, a donation to the Elmwood Orphanage would be appreciated by the children of that institution.

W. T. Newby, road overseer on Route 1, Bonne Terre, was in Farmington Monday on business before the County Court. For some time past Mr. Newby has been in poor health and is just now able to get about.

The Monday Club members held an outing at the St. Francois river Monday evening and invited their husbands to partake of the appetizing supper that was prepared. The hungry husbands report that they were well fed.

When renewing your roof, use Artcraft. Tetley-Klein Lumber Co. has it for you.

The Epworth League of the M. E.
Church, South, of this city, held their regular weekly meeting at Iron Mountain Lake at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Annual installation of officers also took place. Lunch was served on the grounds, and it proved to be a very enjoyable and profitable meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Rhodes and five children, of Jamestown, Penn., arrived here the last of the week for a visit with Mrs. Rhodes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, near town, and other friends. They made the entire trip by automobile in three days, with but a single puncture, and greatly enjoyed the outing.

Carl Trauernicht, who recently went to the State Capitol to serve as secretary to Senator Belken during the special session of the Legislature, writes The Times editor that he has accepted a position in the office of the State Auditor. This position will be permanent, and Carl's many friends will be pleased to learn that he has secured such a position, which he is so well qualified to fill.

Farmington, Mo., R. F. D. No. 2.

Willard Turley, of Desloge, transacted business in Farmington last Saturday. Mr. Turley is favorably spoken of as a prospective candidate for Sheriff in the next election. He has recently returned from France.
He was leader of a contingent of National Army men that left for Camp Funston on March 4, 1918.

Heinz Pickles in barrels, Sweet,

Prosecuting Attorney W. E. Coff-er conveyed Della Johnson to the Industrial Home at Chillicothe Sunday and returned Tuesday. Mr. Coff-er was very favorably impressed with the system being used at the Industrial Home for raising out of the mire of disgrace the some 250 girls who are inmates of that institution.

Claude A. Eaton and Mr. Watts, State Bank examiners, were here the first of the week and examined the business conditions of the Bank of Farmington and the St. Francois County Bank. The Farmers' Bank had been examined about a week previous. The business of all these institutions was found to be in splendid condition.

R. S. Kahn of Desloge, one of the most prominent merchants of the county, was in Farmington Wednesday transacting business. Mr. Kahn reports that business is very good, and said that he was seriously considering opening up a business house here.
Citizens of Farmington will welcome Mr. Kahn back to Farmington, as they well know his business abilities.

Douglas Heifner, son of Circuit Clerk J. C. Heifner, has accepted work in the Times office, to begin next Monday. Douglas is a bright and energetic young man, who will doubtless make good in the newspaper profession, or any other line of industry he may decide to take up permanently.
Any news items given to Douglas will not only be appreciated by him but by The Times management as well.

FOR SALE—A beautiful home in John T. Burks passed through Farmington the last of the week on his return to his home in Charleston from St. Louis. He is this week engaged in packing up and settling up affairs in his old home, preparatory to moving to Iron Mountain, this county, to take active possession of the great Iron Mountain tract of land he recently leased for a period of five years, for which he is to pay $10,000 annually.

Misses Blanche and Emma Long, of St. Louis, arrived Saturday for a visit with Mrs. T. T. Forster, coming from a visit to their farm in Washington county. Accompanying them was Prof. and Mrs. Chas. Collins, also old friends of Mrs. Forster and family.

Prof. Collins left Sunday for a visit to Ste. Genevieve and Cape Girardeau, one of the principle purposes for the trip being to visit the State Normal at the latter place. He is principal of the Harrison high school in St. Louis.

The Times is indebted to E. A.
Koen for a copy of the Dallas, Oregon, Observer, showing the transfer of that paper to him. And the paper bears a very close resemblance to "rich pickins", being twelve pages, divided about fifty-fifty between reading matter and advertising. Mr. Koen grew to manhood in Farmington, and last spring spent several weeks with his sisters, Mrs. J. B. Burks and Mrs. J.
H. Tetley, and renewed many old-time friendships.

ARRESTED IN FLAT RIVER WITH STOLEN CAR

Two men, who give their names as R. C. Hamilton and A. Dudsie, of Cook county, Ill., were arrested in Flat River last Friday night because of their suspicious actions in trying to dispose of a Ford truck they were driving.

Hamilton and Dudsie drove into Flat River one day last week and left their Ford truck in which they were traveling in Watt's garage. They seemed very anxious to sell the truck and Mr. Watts, who suspected that they were driving a stolen car, bargained with them until they agreed to let him have it for $100, whereas at first they had asked nearly twice that amount. They offered to let him have it at that price for cash, but as Mr. Watts was then sure that the truck was stolen, he did not accept it.

Hamilton and Dudsie went on to Bismarck, where they tried to sell their property to Jimmie Lewis, who also became aware, after a few questions, that Hamilton and Dudsie were altimate thieves. He agreed to buy the truck, but told them he would have to go to Flat River to get the money.

They agreed to go with him, and while in Flat River were arrested by Constable Richeson and brought to Farmington, where they were lodged in jail.

The story of these two men seems to be "camouflage". They said that they had bought the truck in Chicago and had driven through to Flat River by way of East St. Louis and St. Louis.
They carried two large tool kits and a large steamer trunk with them and said they were on their way to Carter county. One of them said his home was in Carter county but a considerable degree of questioning failed to show that he was familiar with that part of the country. Their story in several places bore the earmarks of a loosely constructed tale to tell the authorities.

Prosecuting Attorney Coffey wired to the Secretary of State of Illinois that he was the owner of the truck bearing the license of the one in the possession of Hamilton and Dudsie.
Fred Meyer, of Addison, Ill., was given as the name of the owner, and when he was wired his reply was, "Car stolen."

Hamilton and Dudsie are charged with grand larceny, transportation of property and operating a motor vehicle without license. Their preliminary trial was held yesterday, and from the incriminating evidence held against them, it seems that they will be dealt with properly by the authorities.

A. G. Murphy and Gene Mitchell have bought a Fordson tractor and gone to Scott county, where they are getting $3 per acre for plowing.

E. G. Bylander, secretary to the State Fair Board, was a guest of Judge E. E. Swink the first of the week. Mr. Bylander combined business with pleasure, as no one could do otherwise as guest of the affable Judge. The Secretary was here to get the views of the Judge, who is President of the State Fair Board, on several important matters in connection with this year's State Fair, the date of which is now nearly approaching. The condition of the Judge's health has made it impossible to attend all the board meetings, though he is vitally interested in the success of the State Fair, and predicts that this year's exhibition will far surpass all previous exhibitions.

The Lang Motor Co. is now in their splendid new quarters, on the northwest corner of the square. Its new home, especially constructed for its uses, is perhaps the largest garage to be found in the entire State, outside of the largest cities, and even in the cities there are few with as large floor space. The building is about thirty feet wide and 190 feet in length, with splendid cement floors and sidewalks and guttering all round.
In the front end is a large, well lighted show room, while in the rear is sufficient space for storing about seventy-five cars, with ample passage entrance and egress. Its location, also, is the best in the city, while its equipment for giving prompt, efficient and satisfactory service to its patrons will be excelled by none.

BUSINESS COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Irene Morgan, whose home is in Caledonia, was married July 4th to Clarence Jones of Farmington. The student body joins the Faculty in congratulating Mr. Jones and wishing the young couple much happiness.

Last week Malcolm Stinson, Harry Smith and Paul Vail enrolled; Miss Bernice McCarthy also began work with us.

Monday morning, Loomis Hubbard of Clarkton, Mo., began work in the bookkeeping department; Misses Mae Francis, Maggie Calvert, and Louise Brenon, of the graduating class of the Bonne Terre High School entered to complete their shorthand course. Fay Moon and Maude Guyton, also of Bonne Terre, entered at the same time, both of these just beginning to study stenography.

The following old students were among those home for the Fourth: Anna Neider, August Schilling, Clio Sanders, Pearl Sanders, Johanna Sal-ling, Clyde McClintock, Raymond Sigman, Marvin Meyer, Lucille and Estelle AuBuchon.

The Government sent us 500 bullins the other day, urging that we prepare still more girls and boys for Civil Service positions, paying from $1-100 to $1,440 a year to begin, with guaranteed promotion, and a Teachers' Agency sent us a request for five teachers of commercial subjects but we can get only a small proportion of those in demand.

Sheriff Chas. H. Adams took Ronny Pritchett, Nick Pritchett, Charles Harvel and Charley Watkins to the State Penitentiary Sunday. They are all under sentence for burglary and larceny.
The two Pritchetts and Watkins have long been a thorn in the side of the officers of the law, and their capture and conviction came as a result of their prolonged depredations at Doe Run. Mr. Adams was scheduled also to convey John C. Pair to the Penitentiary, but Pair was temporarily relieved because of a claim of being under 18 years of age, which would exclude him from the Penitentiary and make him a subject for the Reform School.

KINKEAD-ASHBURN

On last Tuesday afternoon, July 8,

Gladden Nicholas Kinkead and Miss Frances Dallam Ashburn were united in marriage by Rev. O. H. Duggins, Presiding Elder of the M. E. Church, South.

Both contracting parties are well known in Farmington and the farming region round about, as they are members of prominent farming and stock-raising families. The bride is a quiet, refined lady, who has been living with her mother, sisters, and brother on their farm on Route 1. The groom is a son of G. N. Kinkead, and is an energetic farmer and stock-raiser of established reputation. He has recently returned from France, where he was wounded by machine-gun fire.

The Times wishes Mr. and Mrs. Kinkead much happiness and a long married life.
